

El Camino Cantina brings la vida loca to lockdown Fajita kits, taco kits, fiesta packs and six flavours of margaritas delivered

Friday, 13 August 2021: Buckle up baby, we're back! Tex-Mex wild child El Camino Cantina is warming the tortillas, slow cooking its signature pulled pork, and mixing its famous Margaritas ready for takeaway orders hitting the roads across Sydney.

From today, cult followers of Sydney's wildest, loudest, sassiest Tex-Mex diner can place orders for El Camino Cantina's top six, legendary margarita flavours, fajita packs, taco packs and fiesta packs, with deliveries to begin on Saturday across metropolitan Sydney. There is a 5pm cut-off, for deliveries the next day. Delivery is available Thursday to Saturday moving forward. A Sunday delivery will be offered this week only. Orders can be placed at El Camino Cantina @ Home.

Hold onto your sombrero, because the first 100 orders will receive a complimentary, 250ml Grape Nerd Margarita, El Camino's top selling flavour. And yes, all orders receive free colourful sombreros and tortilla chips and salsa, just as customers receive at El Camino Cantina when the doors are flung open.

Sydneysiders can turbocharge their lockdown Tex-Mex style with sizzle your own Fajita Packs that include chargrilled steak ($47), chargrilled chicken ($43), or a steak-chicken combo ($45) and are designed for two to share. A simple finish-at-home formula requires customers to chargrill or sauté chicken, steak and veggies, warm beans and fresh, house-made tortillas, and then serve with sour cream and salsa.

Or go hands-on with a Taco Pack ($65) that feeds four individuals and promises to spice up the stay-at-home lifestyle. Taco packs include 12 tortillas, spicy pulled pork, ground beef, shredded Iceberg lettuce, cheese, salsa, beans, sour cream, and garnishes of jalapenos, lime and coriander. Add on DIY guacamole ($5).

Better yet, shake off the lockdown blues and start living la vida loca with the Tex-Mex Fiesta Pack ($99), which caters to a family or shared household of four to six members. Included in the home-style party pack are DIY guacamole and chips, marinated steak and chicken, spicy pulled pork, beans, vegetables to chargrill, cheese, salsa, sour cream, shredded Iceberg and 16 fabulous house-made tortillas. A decadent group-sized Fudge Brownie with Salted Caramel Sauce and a Litre Rita (see below) are included in this value-packed party package.

Bottled Margaritas are also available, ready to be served on the rocks by pouring over ice, or with instructions of how to blend and serve frozen. Purchase regular Ritas, or those that are luxed up Cadillac-style with a shot of Grand Marnier, which brings a rich, luxurious note to what are already Sydney's best Margaritas. Six flavours are available – Classic, Mango, Strawberry, Passionfruit, Watermelon and Grape Nerd – with flavoured salts and lime for garnish. These legendary Ritas come in three sizes:

- 250ml, or Quarter Litre Rita ($25 regular/$30 Cadillac)
- 500ml, or Half Litre Rita ($40/$50)
- 1000ml, or Litre Rita ($75/$90)

El Camino Cantina Food & Beverage Director Molly Haranis said: "We reckon our loyal customers are suffering El Camino Cantina withdrawal symptoms right about now."

"El Camino Cantina is about to shake Sydneysiders out of their lockdown blues and food fatigue with simple finish-at-home dishes and half a dozen of our legendary margaritas, available in three sizes."

"With our trademark free sombreros and takeaway fiesta packs, we think there are some home-style Tex-Mex shenanigans about to go down."
